Biography:

My name is Maxim Fomenko. I was born in 1981 in Pyatigorsk. It`s a beautiful city in southwestern Russia and is one of the oldest health resorts in the country.

My father has been a painter and I grew up in an artistic environment. So I could not think about anything else but to become also an artist. That's why I went to a painting school for four years before I began my graphic design studies at a vocational school. Due to the move to Germany with my family I applied at the Academy of Fine Arts in Nuremberg instead of the Saint Petersburg Academy of Arts. And I was accepted. After twelve semesters of studying all possible fields of arts I left the Academy as a master student and have been working as a freelance artist since 2012.

Brief Artist Profile:

I was born in Russia. There I finished the Art Institute. Then I went to Germany and studied at the Academy of Fine Arts in Nuremberg. I graduated with honors with a Masters degree in Arts painting in 2012. My works today can be found in several even prestigious private and public collections, for example:
The Bavarian State Painting Collections in Munich.
The Collections "KLEWAN"