ABOUT THE ARTIST

Ecole Nationale Supérieure des Beaux-Art de Toulouse

Her work, which depicts standing in a car with an animal in it, has the charm to look deeply into it for a long time. It may be simply a big eye or a beautiful color, but the real reason for looking is that you are looking at the 'comfort' you want to find. She is a senior at the Ecole Nationale Supérieure des Beaux-Arts in Toulouse, France. She worked for a design firm, but the tiredness she felt in society became a turning point in her life. Her work brings together fantasy girls and animals that resemble the girl about the value we lost in modern society. She draws two figures of value that exist only in her world. As she expresses the forgotten values of our living in the real world, which is likely to collapse in anxiety, her painting remains a world full of beautiful things. Moon Seung-yeon's painting, which induces the viewer to discover the lost value himself, emphasizes why we need the value of art. Her work has been popular in Contemporary Art Show in Hong Kong, KIAF, BAMA, and other outstanding art fairs. She is also active in various art collaborations.

Artist Notes

The value of what can be seen only when slowed down.

For me, work can be a reflection of the time in the world I live in. 'Slow' is similar to my desire to hold and hug something inside of me. The answer of "finally at last" is possible when we stop from that time.

I hope you hold time to feel the touch of its skin. Whether it is an intangible value or a visible form, I hope you will always have the time to hold what is important when you find a time that will not returned.

Looking at the pictured faces embodies the world of stationary and flowing time. Because it can be met anywhere in the middle of the speed of life, hope through others' eyes and time and stay for a while.
