

Won Eunhee birth.1962 / South Korea

ABOUT THE ARTIST

She was born in Namhae County, South Gyeongsang Province in South Korea.
She paints everyday life with fluttering and shaking hearts longing for youth.
She comforts and heals her inner melancholy and hurts from external world through her artwork.
The healing energy for herself is naturally passed on to her artwork and people who see her artwork.

'It's warm, and happy!'

For these reasons, her artwork has been invited for suicide prevention, Seoul Family Court, Suwon Juvenile Court #6 Facility, ChunCheon National Hospital (Mental Hospital) and others.
She also publishes serially her painting with poem by poet Park Misan every week in a Segye Ilbo.

Artist Notes

Three Metaphors -Me, Painting, Space.

It used to be Black.

The Darkness.

It was the house of anxiety, fear, and chaos.

Couldn't see or hear anything

But it was the darkness where every desire is stopped.

All of a sudden, a small crack has drawn a ray of light.

Light is the alchemist of the star,

A big black thing has

Finally

Become a house of shining stars.

It was a birth of boundless space.
