
Cecilia Chang's Biography

Character Into Style

'Character into style' is the key words of her abstract art world. The true nature of abstract expressionism, She believes, should be something of a character which shows the artist's undisturbed artistic inside but it at least had better be aesthetically prepared with composition, color juxtaposition and many other aesthetic codes which are called as painting style. She always try to evoke her spontaneity and thoughts at every inspirational moment but hope it to be aesthetically beautiful as well.

She doesn't draw a sharp line between representative paintings and abstract style - both categories of her works were sold at the same time especially in New York. She was selected as 'Noteworthy Contemporary Artist' by Art Management Berlin for the The First Berliner Artbook 2019.
