

Choi, Ji-In

Hi, I am Ji-in Choi. My main objective is to spread a world with happiness through my painting practice. The winged dolls (2014) is one of the Wings (2013) series. I want to make paintings that can approach to the general public friendlier. I wished that myself and my viewers would smile and be happier, looking at the amiable characters. I work on the twelve gods of the earth as my main motifs and put a white ribbon on each of them in order to signify that they will be reborn. For the series, I particularly develop the lines of the characters in color. I also adorn the background creating new patterns. I plan to continue the series in the hope to fill a world with laughter and joy. For more information, visit www.jiyin.co.kr. Have a wonderful day!
