

Artist Profile Juliette Clovis

French born artist Juliette Clovis works on woman and her avatars. In a shown quest of aestheticism, she delivers in her work her vision of beauty and strange, trying to hypnotize the spectator and to attract him in her ultra feminine universe. Influenced in her earliest works by pop art, and more recently by contemporary photography, religious iconography or lobrow art, the artist has finally invented a singular graphic universe.

The support used by the artist, her medium, her technique, are questioning and appealing to the spectator. Clovis is a «plastic surgeon» operating on vinyl and transforming reality deeper than it first seems. She handles raw material, cuts it and carves it before she superimposes the layers on Plexiglas. This unique technique she has initiated enables her to process the “skin” of her original material – vinyl – to reach her aim: reinvent beauty, analyze it and play with genes and hormones crossings, androgyny and body changes.

After living in Paris for 12 years, Clovis moved to Bordeaux where she currently lives and creates her arts. She has participated to several exhibitions and fairs in Europe and New York and her work is now represented by about 10 galleries.

One of Clovis' latest artworks "Catherine de Medici II" was auctioned in Paris last December, at Cornette de Saint Cyr auction house.
